Angry?

By Pastor Dave

There is a game called "Angry Birds" that I have downloaded onto my tablet. In this game, you use a sling-shot to launch various birds at different structures to destroy, free or release other objects or animals. If you have never seen or played the game, I don't know if you have missed much. There are a lot of other games available to download that may be more exciting. But one of the things that fascinates me about this game is its name. I usually do not consider birds to be angry. I have seen birds chase squirrels away. I have seen them fight for food on the ground. But I don't think of birds as ever being angry. I suppose they could be. I think of anger not as an emotion of our feathered-friends but of people.

We all know what anger is because we have experienced it. We may have become angry and upset if things don't go our way, if others have harmed us or something that we love, if our children have disobeyed us, or if we see some great injustice being done. Anger is one of those emotions that can erupt quickly. Unfortunately, for some people their anger causes them to lose control of what they say and do. The result of this may be that verbal or physical harm is done, which may stir up even more anger.

25th Anniversary Celebration Sunday, Oct. 18 for Pastor Dave and Kim Wagner

Join us as we honor Pastor Dave on reaching the mark of 25 years at BSLC.

Doughnuts and other treats will be served between worship services in the fellowship hall on Sunday, Oct 18. A table will be set up for cards and other well-wishes. If you can't attend, be sure to send a card to the office in honor of this special time for Pastor Dave and Kim.

(From 1990)

As we look at anger, I would like you to think about God and anger. The Bible points out that there are times when God was very angry. He even has a right to be angry. But this does not give us the full picture of God or describe the main thing about God. At the heart of God is not anger but love.

On the last Sunday of October, we will celebrate the Reformation begun by Luther. Martin Luther originally had the view that Christ was an angry judge who at any moment was ready to lash out at you for any sin you may have committed. He then reasoned that, if the heart of God's Son is anger, you needed to work hard to try and earn his favor. But that all changed as Luther rediscovered the Gospel. The Bible reminds us that God is angry with sin. However, the Gospel declares that His anger and wrath was directed at Jesus. That is why he went to the cross. On that tree, Jesus paid the consequences of our sins that caused God's wrath. And now, trusting in Jesus, we can rest assured that God is no longer angry with us. Rather, through faith in Jesus we receive mercy, grace and love. As our great High Priest, Jesus Christ reconciled us to God the Father.

When you think of anger, what comes to your mind? Is it angry birds? Is it others who are mad at you? Do you think of yourself? Do you think of how God looks upon you? There is anger in this world. But praise be to the love of God that sent His only Son so that you and I would never have to consider the LORD as an angry God.

Peace in Christ,

Pastor Dave

"Gospel in Life"

(Grace Changes Everything)

9:40 a.m. Sunday Mornings

We are going through a thought-provoking study by pastor Timothy Keller on Sunday mornings. We are exploring just how radical the gospel is and how it changes our hearts, our homes, our community and changes how we live in the world. We meet in the fellowship hall.

"Ruth: Your God Will be My God"

Women's Bible Study

We invite women to join our study on Ruth that meets Monday evenings or Thursday mornings. If you have questions, call Loretta Swanson at 236-1891.

"Jesus' Sermon on the Mount"

7 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct 6.

We will conclude our look on at Matthew 5-7 on Oct. 6. Join us as we see how Jesus calls us to a life of discipleship.

A Man Named Martin - Part 1:

7 p.m. on Tuesdays starting Oct. 13

In this video based Bible study put out by The Lutheran Hour, Luther's life and times are examined through the lens of history, religion and theology.

The influence and impact of Luther's life is the stuff of serious study. As a forlorn sinner feeling lost and desperate before a stern Judge, Luther desponded of all hope for eternity. But as one who came to cling to the Spirit-delivered truths of justification by faith and the liberty believers experience by God's grace, he rebounded to become a triumphant ambassador for the Gospel. Join us as we look at the Gospel and see how it not only changed the life of Luther but also how it changes us.

"This Act of Grace"

Fall Stewardship Emphasis

"This Act of Grace" will be this year's fall mission and stewardship emphasis. We will begin on October 25. For each week of this emphasis, we will hear stories of God's abundant grace toward us, focusing on the different ways in which we respond to his grace. The themes for each week are:

- ♦ "By His Grace" (based on Rom. 3:24)
- ♦ "God's Varied Grace" (1 Peter 4:10)
- ♦ "My Grace is Sufficient" (2 Cor. 12:9)
- ♦ "This Act of Grace" (2 Cor. 8:9).

More information will be shared about this at the end of October and in November. Plan to grace us with your presence, as God will grace us with His.

Praying for Others in Bulletin

Please remember to update the office on your prayer petition in our announcements. Our announcements of prayer requests gives all our church members a chance to pray for our particular needs and joys. God hears all our prayers at all times.

October is Pastor Appreciation Month

Who is "on call" 24 hours a day, seven days a week? Well, there's the obvious - parents. Then there's the not-so-obvious - your pastor. His office hours may be printed in the bulletin as Monday through Thursday, but he doesn't clock out after that.

Your pastor's calendar is filled with shut-in visits, board meetings, counseling, teaching, community-relationship building, and late-night phone calls. And his mind and heart hold the God-given weight of spiritual care for His people.

thank God for your pastor and here are some other ideas to thank him with.

- ◆ Pray for your pastor and his family.
- ◆ Pray for good health for your pastor.
- ◆ Bring him a cup of his favorite beverage.
- ◆ Invite your pastor over for a meal.
- ◆ Invite friends and family to church and introduce them to your pastor.
- ◆ Ask your pastor if there's something he needs help with.
- ◆ Send him a small gift card for coffee, lunch or to a bookstore.

BSLC Coffee Club

Every Friday, BSLC members gather at 9 a.m. at Randy's, 2130 University Drive S., Fargo. This time of fellowship is to get to know other BSLC members and is for both men and women of any age. Join us when you can.

Gold Club Potluck Noon, Wednesday, Oct. 21

Have you come to one of the church's Gold Club potluck lunches? This is for anyone age 55 and/or older. We will meet at the church at noon Wednesday, Oct. 21. Try out a new recipe and invite others to come too. We spend an hour in fellowship while enjoying good food.

Quilting

Quilting will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Oct. 8 and 22. Bring any sewing materials and fabric you would like to share and your sewing machine, if possible. This is open to all ages, and even non-sewers can be kept busy.

College Students' Address

Please leave your child's new college address with the church office. This will allow us to keep in contact with them as well as notifying the campus ministry so they can make contact with your child.

Invite others to Come

Christ has commissioned all of us to reach out to others with the Gospel. We are to share with others through our words and actions that we have a marvelous Savior. There are people who we come into contact with who have no church home. In your conversation with them (these neighbors and friends), we encourage you to share with them about the things that are happening at Beautiful Savior and invite them to come with you. Through our ministry, we seek to bring God's blessings, forgiveness and wisdom into our own lives as well as others.

What if....?

by Pastor Chris

What if I told you that your child could attend one of the most prestigious universities in the country – practically for free?

Enter Stanford. The university recently adopted a policy that waives tuition for families making up to $125,000 while also throwing in room and board for those families with incomes below $65,000. Of course, overall finances come into play for the financial aid packages, and students are expected to pitch in through work programs and other means.

There is one complication: It's REALLY hard to get into Stanford. Out of more than 42,000 applicants, the Stanford Class of 2019 stands at 2,144 students, an acceptance rate of just more than five percent. Now, I'm not knocking Stanford. I really do admire their commitment to offer quality education to deserving students regardless of financial standing.

However, the sad tragedy is that our eyes light up when earthly offers and advancement present themselves, but do we have the same reaction to God's salvation given freely to us in and through Jesus?

We parents often push our kids to improve their education, their standing in life, their job qualifications, their hobbies and interests, their pursuits and dreams. But do we encourage, even insist, that they regularly come to God's means of grace, where God has promised to create and feed their faith? Do we talk about the benefit and need for regular worship, Bible study and devotion? If not, it's time to change our priorities. With today's cultural climate, more and more people are lapsing into apostasy, abandoning their religious beliefs because the world and their own sinful self leads them down that path. In this sinful age, it is essential to be dutiful and disciplined by placing ourselves where God has promised to be present and working: Word and sacrament.

Changes in Your Life?

Moving? New phone? Drop your landline? New e-mail address? Traveling this winter? Please let the church office know of any changes or if you will be gone. Our newsletters are not forwardable but instead are returned to the church at a cost to us. Thanks for keeping the office updated!

What if I told you that your child could spend eternity with God himself, sins forgiven and relationship restored, all for free?

Enter Jesus. He paid the heavy price for all our sins by taking them to the cross – a cross of scorn, shame and even damnation, taking our place so that we might be accepted before God. Because of Christ's suffering, death and resurrection, those in faith are God's children, future citizens of a new heavens and new earth, a standing much more valuable and important than any earthly offer or achievement.

Placing focus on earthly pursuits certainly can be rewarding and commended, but not at the cost of neglecting, and even forgetting, faith. Nothing on this earth is more valuable than our God's love in Jesus and the faith He imparts. After all, Jesus wisely asked, "For what does it profit a man to gain the whole world and forfeit his soul? For what can a man give in return for his soul? For whoever is ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him will the Son of Man also be ashamed when he comes in the glory of his Father with the holy angels," (Mark 8:36-38).

God's word affirms that for those with faith in Jesus Christ, the brightest future has been secured as we look forward to a perfect eternity with God, the source of all goodness and life. And for those in faith, the acceptance rate is 100 percent through Jesus Christ our Lord! May the Lord who has begun this good work in us bring it to completion in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.
