Lent Leads Us to Consider Our Mortality So That We May Have Life in Christ

By Pastor Chris

Pondering your own mortality probably doesn't top the list of your favorite pastimes. If you are anything like me, you go out of your way to bury the fact that one day, you will die. We tell ourselves we have plenty of time. "That Day" only will come in the distant future; it doesn't require immediate attention.

But recent headlines remind us that we can never predict when That Day will come, and it can come much, much sooner than anticipated. No one saw the death of NBA superstar Kobe Bryant coming. This man seemed larger than life. Blessed with extreme wealth and excellent health, Kobe couldn't really be gone at 41, could he?

In more recent news, musician Lindsey Lagestee planned to play with her band at a Valentine's Day show in Chicago. A vehicle struck her as she crossed the street toward the venue, and she died a few days later. She was 25 years old.

On a more personal note, my sister recently had a delightful lunch with one of our cousins. Later that day, our cousin would suffer a major heart attack and die. Although she was 76, she had been in good health. Her sudden death came as a major surprise.

Our mortality comes into focus during the season of Lent and for good reason. On Ash Wednesday, we heard the words of God's declaration to Adam: "For you are dust and to dust, you shall return." These words remind us that death does not come as a natural part of the cycle of life. Rather, death comes as God's judgement against sin. In light of this, living in denial of our own mortality can prove deadly.

Psalm 90 offers up this petition to God: "Teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom," (Psalm 90:12). During this season of Lent, we have an opportunity to ponder our own mortality from a higher point of view, considering how our sin has brought us to a most grave condition with death's wages as payment for our trespasses. We remember that our sins earn spiritual death and separation from God. Instead of filing death away neatly in a corner somewhere, God's Word calls us to turn from our rebellion and sin, repenting of our transgressions instead of wallowing securely in them. Psalm 90 asks that God's Word might help us fully recognize this even as that Word leads us to God for deliverance.

Teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom.

Psalm 90:12

During Lent, we will consider our Lord's passion and death as God's means to bring about this deliverance. In His humanity, our Lord did not have a long life before he died at the hands of lawless men. Even though He had instructed His disciples that He had come to suffer and die and rise again to break the power of death, they scattered, hid and even despaired during our Lord's passion and immediately after His death. But they did not yet have the whole story realized.

We know the Easter joy that awaits us. God does not leave you on the ash heap or in the dust of death. He sent Jesus to take all of sin and death's power upon Himself. As we consider our own mortality, we also look forward to our immortality -- brought to reality by Christ's Easter victory. But for 40 days until Easter, we will see and study our Savior as He walks the hard, deadly road to Jerusalem, taking each step deliberately and confidently to give us eternal life.

Pastor Chris

Thrivent Choice Dollars

Did you know that the Thrivent Choice program allows eligible Thrivent members to recommend making charitable contributions to Beautiful Savior? Several BSLC members have supported the church's mission by directing a portion of their Thrivent Choice dollars to BSLC. Between 2015 and 2019, Beautiful Savior has received $17,232 in Thrivent Choice dollars, which included $3489 in 2019.

Thank you for supporting God's work at BSLC through the Thrivent Choice program! If you haven't participated in Thrivent Choice but would like to learn more, you can visit Thrivent.com/thriventchoice, or contact your Thrivent representative. You must renew your designation every year. The deadline is March 31.

Upcoming Bible Studies

9:30 a.m. Sunday morning Bible study - Beautiful Savior has moved to a united curriculum; all grade levels, even adults, will study the same Bible lesson every Sunday in hopes that it will foster discussion between members and equip families for faith formation at home.

7 p.m. Tuesday Bible study - Miracles Bible Study: The four Gospels and the book of Acts contain many miracles. They cause people to wonder how God's rule presents itself. Certainly, miracles demonstrate God's compassionate acts toward people in need. But they do more than help someone out of a difficult situation. In the New Testament, miracles work together with the words of Jesus to identify Him as the Son of God and the Savior of the world. The miracles help point to the coming of God's kingdom through Jesus.

Perhaps you've seen one of those religious shows that claim to perform miraculous healings. Maybe you've heard the message that if you have enough faith, you will be cured, or someone won't die. Like a sales pitch, the phrase "claim a miracle" tells us to expect it, and it will happen.

The Bible's message is much different. Yes, miracles happen -- even today. But to expect one or claim one from God is not the promise given in Scripture. Instead, Jesus's gifts of forgiveness and eternal life are the promises we claim and expect.

9 a.m. Thursday Women's Bible study: "Isaiah, Trusting God in Troubled Times" - In Isaiah, you'll discover that trouble and suffering are nothing new to God's people. Isaiah raises a loud cry for revival amid a rotting society. Isaiah firmly believes that God can triumph even in the worst of times. Join us as we dig deep into the message of repentance, forgiveness and hope. You'll find comfort for coping with your own troubled times.

New Member Sunday March 22

Beautiful Savior will welcome the newer members of our congregation during both worship services on Sunday, March 22. There will be a potluck to welcome the new members at 11:45 a.m. in the fellowship hall. Bring a dish or dessert to share and enjoy fellowship with our new members. If you would like to become a member at Beautiful Savior, talk with Pastor Chris or Pastor Brian. We would love to have you as part of our church family.

Evangelism to Meet March 2

The evangelism committee will meet at 6 p.m. on Monday, March 2. At this meeting the agenda is to develop and implement an adopt-a-member program so Beautiful Savior members can welcome, integrate, and serve new members so they feel loved!

This adopt-a-member program will match a current member with a new member, visitor or a member that is becoming active again. We hope to have this in place by March 22 for new member Sunday.

If you are interested in helping mentor new members contact Tim Deitemeyer at tim.deitemeyer@hotmail.com or come check out the meeting. Pizza will be provided.

A Prayer for Healing

By Pastor Brian

"O Lord, rebuke me not in your anger, nor discipline me in your wrath. Be gracious to me, O Lord, for I am languishing; heal me, O Lord, for my bones are troubled. My soul also is greatly troubled. But you, O Lord—how long? Turn, O Lord, deliver my life; save me for the sake of your steadfast love...Depart from me, all you workers of evil, for the Lord has heard the sound of my weeping. The Lord has heard my plea; the Lord accepts my prayer."
(Psalm 6:1-4, 8-9).

King David wrote this psalm probably at the time in his life when things were not going well. He was hurting physically and was greatly disturbed over the turmoil that was engulfing him. He prayed fervently for the Lord to deliver him from the agony of pain and the anguish of his soul.

Can you relate to David's condition today? Are you struggling with a physical ailment that drains your strength? When you woke up this morning, was your outlook for the day clouded by yesterday's adversity? Are you slogging through the day silently sighing, "O Lord, how long?"

In his great needs for his body and soul, David petitioned the Lord for help. He counted on the Lord's unfailing love to look on him in mercy and lift him up from the pit of his problems. And his prayer was answered. David exclaimed, "The Lord has heard my plea; the Lord accepts my prayer."

Trusting in the love and power of the Lord, you too can take your cares to Him. He promises to hear our prayer. And His answer will always be according to His unfailing love for you—a love He demonstrated by sending Jesus to rescue you from the pain of sin's punishment and the agony of eternal death. The Lord hears your pleas and accepts your prayers.

"Main Street Living North" TV Program News

As I write this article on Feb. 10, the Coronavirus epidemic is in the headlines, the recent wild fires in Australia are fresh in our minds and the nightly news reminds us that we are living in a fallen, broken world. In the last two weeks I've attended funerals for two younger friends who have been struggling with health problems for years. I too will be undergoing surgery for prostate cancer on March 5. Your prayers will be greatly appreciated. "We know that the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time." (Romans 8:22) "But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." (I Corinthians 15:57)

LCMS members march for life with 'a message of forgiveness for all'

By Stacey Egger

Marching for life

The 2020 National March for Life theme was "Life Empowers: Pro-life is Pro-woman." The LCMS theme was "Show up. Confess Christ. Be Lutheran."

As in previous years, LCMS marchers wore neon green Eyes of Life hats, carried Eyes of Life signs and sang hymns — printed on the backs of the signs — as they marched.

"Our group sings hymns," said Hilarie Nigro, a sophomore at Concordia University Wisconsin (CUW), Mequon, WI. This was Nigro's first time to attend the D.C. march. "That was an amazing experience, all singing together, with President Harrison leading us as if we were an army."

The LCMS group included marchers of all ages: college students, seminarians, young adults, parents, children and senior citizens. Student groups from several Concordia universities attended, as well as more than 90 students from Concordia Lutheran High School (CLHS) in Fort Wayne, Ind. Three Lutheran students were able to accompany Harrison backstage at the rally held on the National Mall prior to the march: Caroline Hagan of CUW; Nicole Chappell of Concordia University Chicago, River Forest, Ill.; and Callie Hoover of CLHS. President Donald J. Trump attended the rally, the first U.S. president in history to do so. "It [being backstage] was a little bit surreal ... being able to meet the different types of people," said Chappell. "We talked to the Greek Orthodox bishop who led the prayer ... [and] to an attorney from Louisiana."

It was Chappell's fourth time at the March for Life. "We're not going to stop until we have what we want," she said. "And what we want is life for everyone."

"The media ... tries to make it seem like everybody is pro-choice," said Hagan. "It's really cool to be here, to see how many people ... are pro-life, and to stand together. Every life is a gift from God. Every life has value, no matter what stage — even in the womb."

As marchers reached the U.S. Supreme Court and dispersed, Harrison led the LCMS group in Corporate Confession and Absolution, a prayer and a final hymn.

"We have confessed our sins," concluded Harrison. "We have all fallen short of caring for our neighbor, of loving our neighbor in various ways, and [have] also ignored the need of our neighbor. And yet we are forgiven for the sake of Christ."

"Dear friends in Christ, continue forward knowing that our Lord Jesus is in front of us and behind us. The future is in His hands. He is the future of the church."

-Reprinted from the Reporter, official newspaper of the LCMS
