Your New Money Mindset

By Pastor Dan

There is a Sunday School song you might know that goes "God is so good, God is so good, God is so good, He's so good to me!" During the month of November, we take a day to recognize and appreciate how good God is to us, when we gather with our families to celebrate Thanksgiving. Thought it is primarily thought of as a secular holiday, we Christians know the source of all the blessings in our lives: Our God in Heaven, and we give thanks to Him, which sets us apart from those who hold just a secular view of the world. On account of our faith in God, we hold a Christian worldview. And because of that, we view and understand the world very differently than those who do not have faith. For example, instead of just celebrating an abundant harvest at Thanksgiving, we Christians celebrate the Lord of the harvest, who creates the blessings we get to enjoy. Or, instead of gathering at a funeral to simply honor and remember a departed loved one, we Christians also gather to give praise and thanks to God for the faith and life—including the eternal life—granted to our departed loved one in the faith.

Help Decorate the Church Nov. 28

Advent Midweek Schedule

Advent Midweek services will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 2, 9 and 16. Soup and sandwich potluck suppers will be at 6 p.m. before worship services. Bring a dish, side or dessert to share.

Verse 2 of that Sunday school song is, "He answers prayer, He answers prayer, He answers prayer, He's so good to me!" What a blessing it is that we have a God who hears us when we pray, and who wants to hear from us. We can go to Him when we experience all the ups and down of this world, including when we want to thank Him for abundantly supplying us with all we need, or when we might be anxious about making ends meet.

For we know and trust what it says in verse 3 of the Sunday School song, "He cares for me, He cares for me, He cares for me, He's so good to me!" And we know this because he sent His Son, Jesus, our Savior, to sacrifice himself on our behalf, so that we can be saved. He cares so much for us that he did all that was necessary to gain for us the forgiveness of our sins, by dying on the cross, and rising from the dead. He even sent the Holy Spirit to create the faith we need to be able to trust in Him for salvation and life.

And because of all that, our Christian faith influences how we interact with the world, which that also includes how we handle our finances (or at least it should). That's the focus of our upcoming three-week Stewardship Sermon Series titled, "Your New Money Mindset," as we will wrestle with what it means to have a countercultural and biblical approach to managing our relationship with money. That being wise and generous with money leads to greater joy, less worry, and helps to create a world more in tune with the way God intends it.

The sermon themes include, "Week one: A Satisfied Mindset," "Week two: A Steward's Mindset," and "Week three: A Servant's Mindset." The goal of the series will be to help us break the persistent 'desire for more' in our consumer-driven society, and to challenge us to reach for something better—a peace that we have enough, enough for ourselves and enough to share.

And with that faithful and biblical approach to managing our relationship with money, it will enhance and deepen our relationship with our God. For if we can trust God with our salvation, than we can also certainly trust God with our finances. And instead of giving and supporting the church from a place of duty or obligation, we can joyfully respond as the kind of cheerful giver God delights in, for 2 Corinthians 9:7 says, "Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." In other words, we can use the blessings God gives to communicate back to him what it says in verse 4 and 5 of the song, "I love Him so, I love Him so, I love Him so, He's so good to me!" and "I'll praise His name, I'll praise His name, I'll praise His name, He's so good to me!"

So, as we approach this season of Thanksgiving, I challenge each of us to look at our resources through this new lens of faith. Let's lean into this sermon series together, trusting that our God—who has already given us everything in Christ Jesus—will continue to guide and provide for us every step of the way. I invite you to join us in the pews over these next three weeks as we discover the immense joy of a truly satisfied, steward-focused, and servant-hearted life. May our lives and our giving always sing back to Him: "He's so good to me!"

In Christ's Service,

+ Pastor Dan

Safety Team Update: This summer, BSLC formed a Safety Team to help keep our members, guests, and children safe whenever we gather.

At our first meeting, the team looked at entrances, parking lot lighting, children's ministry areas, and where we would go during a tornado or evacuation. One of our first projects has recently been completed, numbers on every exterior door. In an emergency, the numbers let us tell 911 and arriving responders which door to come through. They also help our team talk to each other clearly.

The church floor plan has been updated to show every exit, fire extinguisher, and first aid kit in the building. When it's finished, everyone will be able to quickly find the nearest exit or emergency supplies.

We bought new pads for the church's AED and a new, fully stocked first aid kit now hangs right above it. We've also placed three bright red first aid buckets around the building for larger emergencies located in:
- the sound booth in the sanctuary
- the janitor closet near the bathrooms and nursery
- the overflow closet in the fellowship hall

Our goal is to have a bucket in every classroom.

We will be adding railings along the steps up to the altar. Other priorities include better ways to secure the building and a security camera system. We're looking for grant funding to help pay for many of these projects.

Take a moment to notice where the AED, the red buckets, and the nearest exits are from where you usually sit. If you notice a safety concern, have medical or emergency training, or would like to serve on the team, please talk to Seth Murray or Travis Olson. We're grateful to serve this congregation. Thank you.

Social hour starts at 5 p.m. Tickets are on sale at www.glsfargo.org. We have a very special program lined up this year, including live musical performances by our area pastors and students!

A Celebration of Grace is not only a time to celebrate the wonderful things God has provided; it is also an important fundraiser, particularly for Grace's scholarship ministry. This year, Grace joyously gave out over $84,000 in financial aid to make Christian education accessible to families who might otherwise struggle with the cost of tuition. Financial aid is a ministry dear to our hearts and mission – it is a ministry of compassion, an expression of Christian love, and a sound investment in the faith and spiritual future of our students and families.

If you cannot attend but would still like to join in the festivities, silent auctions open on our website, no ticket needed, starting on Monday, Nov. 9 at noon and close at 6, 6:25, and 7:25 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 13. Donations can also be sent directly to the school.
